Message from Dr. Ramesh Mehta, President, GAPIO

"Alone we can do so little; together we can do so much."

– Helen Keller

On behalf of the Global Association of Physicians of Indian Origin (GAPIO), I am delighted to welcome you at the Global Health Summit in the beautiful city of Mumbai. Apart from updating our knowledge about common illnesses, it gives great opportunity to network with delegates from different parts of the world. I hope you will also find some time to explore the city.

This summit is collaborative effort between Global Association of Physicians of Indian Origin (GAPIO) and American Association of Physicians of Indian Origin (AAPi). Our common objectives are to assist in improving healthcare worldwide.

A key challenge facing health care organisations is to nurture cultures that ensure the delivery of continuously improving high-quality, safe and compassionate health care. Leadership is the most influential factor in shaping organisational culture and in ensuring that necessary behaviours, strategies and qualities are developed. I am glad that during last one-year GAPIO has had several leadership promoting workshops all over India.

Globally the concept of health care is changing. Instead of focussing on treating disease, prevention and wellness is gaining importance. Over 1.4 million Indian doctors working in almost every corner of the globe can make immense contribution to Global wellness. This strong diaspora of Indian doctors is highly respected and powerful. However, for them to be more effective, there is a need for greater visibility and cohesion. Their combined intellectual and technical strength can also be a vital force in the development of the Indian healthcare sector. 'Ayushman Bharat' and concept of Health and wellness centres under 'Modi Care' in India provides an excellent opportunity for NRI physicians to serve mother India.

Finally, may I thank Dr Naresh Parikh, Mr Anwar Feroz and the organising committee of the conference for an excellent programme and beautiful venue of the conference.

Dr. Ramesh Mehta
President

Message from Dr. Anupam Sibal, Vice President, GAPIO

It is my privilege to invite all physicians of Indian Origin to join the deliberations at the Global Health Summit (GHS) 2018 organized through a collaboration between the Global Association of Physicians of Indian Origin (GAPIO) and American Association of Physicians of Indian Origin (AAPi) from 28th-30th December 2018.
